ESTIMATED FISCAL IMPACT:

NOT SIGNIFICANT

- Pursuant to 36-5-103(c), the prevailing party may recover reasonable attorney's fees incurred in enforcing any decree for alimony and child support or in regard to any suit or action concerning adjudication of the custody or change in custody of any children.
- Passage of this legislation would expand the grounds for the prevailing party to recover reasonable attorney's fees in any criminal or civil contempt action to enforce, alter, change or modify a decree of alimony, child support, or custody.
- No fiscal impact on the operations of the Department of Children's Services.
- Based on information provided by the Administrative Office of the Courts, the proposed legislation would not result in a significant increase in caseloads for the state and local courts. Any increase in expenditures will be absorbed within existing judicial resources.
